THE Chicago Society of Etchers was organized in January, 1910, with twenty members, but it remained a local society only a short time. As its work became known, the membership grew until it is now international, some of its eighty-nine members being in Italy, England, France, Belgium, Japan and Germany. Its ability to maintain traveling exhibitions throughout the country, in addition to the one big collection shown in the Art Institute each year, is largely due to the support of its associate membership which numbers about 200. These members are scattered all over the United States and abroad. Ten per cent of their dues provides a fund with which the Society purchases etchings from the annual exhibition and presents to the Art Institute of Chicago for its permanent collection. In the 1914 exhibition nine etchings were purchased as follows:

Ernest D. Roth, Arch of Cooca; William A. Levy, Man in Cloak; Ralph M. Pearson, Winter Landscape; Louis Calewaert, the Blower; Franklin T. Wood, Farm Lane; Anne Goldthwaite, the Dancer; C. H. White, Washington; Allen Lewis, Gowanus Canal; Paul Weisbach, Le Chantier.

Three associate members, Wallace L. De Wolf, R. P. Lamont and Frank G. Logan, offered prizes of $25 each for the best work in landscape, figure and architecture. These prizes were awarded by a committee of two artists, two collectors and an architect, consisting of Charles Francis Brown, Oliver Dennett Grover, Bryan Lathrop, Wallace L. De Wolf and Howard Shaw, to the following: Ralph M. Pearson for a Winter landscape; William A. Lee for Man in Cloak; and Ernest D. Roth for Arch of Conca.

The publication issued in 1914 for associate members was a book on the Etching of Landscapes written by Henry Winslow, enclosing two original signed etchings by Franklin T. Wood and Allen Lewis. These plates were selected by the Executive Board from a competitive list etched for this purpose. The plates were purchased by the Society, 250 prints made and plates destroyed. No copies of these etchings, or the book enclosing them are for sale.

The Society pays no salaries and has no revenue aside from the annual dues of its active and associate members. No commissions are taken for the sale of etchings made for artists, except the minimum one of 10% required by museums where exhibitions are held.

For this exhibition 534 prints were submitted, and 303 accepted. Sixty members and eighteen non-members are represented.
THREE prizes of twenty-five dollars each have been offered for the best etchings in landscape, arquitecture and portrait or figure work, as follows:

Mr. Wallace L. DeWolfe, $25 for landscape.
Mr. R. P. Lamont, $25 for portrait or figures.
Mr. Frank G. Logan, $25 for architecture.

The committee to award these prizes and also to select, from the present exhibition, the etchings for purchase and presentation to the permanent collection of the Chicago Art Institute by the Chicago Society of Etchers, consists of:

BRYAN LATHROP,
GEORGE SASENBY,
THOMAS E. TALLMANDE,
OLIVER DENNETT GROVER,
RALPH CLARKSON,
KENNETH SAWYER GOODMAN.

For information regarding exhibits for sale apply to Miss. Willard at desk. Duplicate proofs may be ordered from the artist through Miss. Willard.

All payments for exhibits purchased must be made to the Secretary of the Art Institute.
