EXHIBITION OF SKETCHES
BY
WILSON EYRE, ARCHITECT

OCTOBER SEVEN TO TWENTY-SIXTH, 1919
WILSON EYRE was born in Florence, Italy, in 1858, and lived in Italy until eleven years of age.

He studied at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and was associated with James P. Sims, architect, 1876 to 1881.

He is represented by many buildings in Philadelphia and New York City, and was the architect of a number of buildings for Newcomb Memorial College, New Orleans, and the Detroit Club, Detroit, Michigan, etc.

He was elected to the American National Academy in 1910 and is a member of the American Institute of Architects, the T. Square Club, the Philadelphia Club and American Social Science Association.
