THE ART INSTITUTE OF CHICAGO was incorporated May 24, 1879, for the "founding and maintenance of schools of art and design, the formation and exhibition of collections of objects of art, and the cultivation and extension of the arts of design by any appropriate means." The Museum building upon the Lake Front, first occupied in 1893, is open to the public every week day from 9 to 6, Sundays from 12:15 to 10. Admission is free to members and their families at all times, and free to all upon Wednesdays, Saturdays, Sundays and public holidays.

The Art School, in the same building, includes departments of Drawing, Painting, Sculpture, Illustration, Decorative Designing, Normal Instruction, and Architecture.

All friends of the Art Institute are invited to become members. Annual Members pay a fee of ten dollars a year. Life Members pay one hundred dollars and are thenceforth exempt from dues. Governing Members pay one hundred dollars upon election and twenty-five dollars a year thereafter. Upon the payment of four hundred dollars Governing Members become Governing Life Members and are thenceforth exempt from dues. All receipts from life memberships are invested and the income only expended.

All members are entitled, with their families and visiting friends, to admission to all exhibitions, receptions, public lectures, and entertainments given by the Art Institute, and to the use of the Ryerson reference library upon art.
THIRTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES.

Chicago, June 3, 1913.

To the Governing Members of the Art Institute of Chicago:

The year just closed has been one of great activity. If the usefulness of the Art Institute may be measured by the numbers who visit its Museum and Library and attend its School and Lectures, its value and success are assured. With but moderate resources, it has succeeded in reaching as many people as any art institution in the world of which we are able to obtain records. The total number of visitors to the galleries, including students counted once a day, has been more than a million; visitors 925,607, students 154,628, total 1,080,235. The increase of visitors over last year is 64,596. The whole number of students in the school has been 2,886; of visitors to the library, 77,615; of attendants on lectures, 100,479.

The receipts applicable to operating expenses of the Museum, derived from memberships, door fees, catalogue sales, the South Park tax, and sundry other sources, have amounted to $160,111.67, while the operating expenses (including the Ryerson Library and Fullerton Memorial Hall) have been $156,287.61, a surplus of $3,824.06. An additional sum of $6,321.94 has been expended for marble work on the grand stairway.

In the school department the receipts from tuition fees, locker fees, matriculation fees, and sundry sources have been $74,930.44, while the expenditure, for salaries, models, heat, light, janitor service, accessions, etc., has been $76,393.21, a deficit of $1,462.77.
The income from endowment, part of which is restricted, has been $24,830.71, and $23,448.22 have been expended for paintings for the galleries, books for the library, scholarships, prizes, and the Scammon lectures, leaving a surplus of $1,382.49.

Upon June 1, 1912, the invested funds were $504,160.80. During the last fiscal year they have been increased by the following receipts:

Amount received from 179 life memberships............ $17,900.00
Amount received from 2 gov. life memberships......... 800.00
Amount received from Daniel Hudson Burnham bequest ........................................ 50,000.00
Amount received from William C. Seipp bequest ...... 5,000.00
Amount received from Insurance Fund.................. 1,567.62
Amount received from John H. Vanderpoel Scholarship Fund ....................................... 642.92

Total................................................................. $75,910.54

So that the present amount of invested funds is........ $580,071.34

The indebtedness of the Art Institute June 1, 1912, was 197,500.00

This has been reduced by receipts from the sale of real estate bequeathed by Catherine M. White.... 4,000.00
And by payments from the income of the Stickney, Ogden and Kent funds, and by a gift of $100.00, account of accessions ......................... 7,000.00
And increased by temporary loans, account of building additions and accessions ...................... 40,000.00
So that the total liabilities now are ....................... 226,500.00

The Art Institute also holds real estate in Evanston valued at $36,790.00, constituting the residue of the Catherine M. White estate. A list of the endowment funds is appended to this report. The Life Membership Fund, founded in 1897, now amounts to $136,200.00.
At the time of the last annual meeting intelligence had just been received of the death at Heidelberg, Germany, upon June 1, 1912, of Daniel H. Burnham, the architect, for six years a Trustee of the Art Institute. The Trustees have placed upon their records and transmitted to the family minutes of their loss in the death of Mr. Burnham, and a copy of these minutes accompanies this report. They also made Mrs. Burnham a Life Member of the Art Institute. Mr. Burnham made a bequest to the Art Institute of $50,000 for a library of architecture, and this sum was paid over to the Art Institute in August, 1912. The Trustees appointed a committee, consisting of Howard Shaw, Pierce Anderson, Hubert Burnham, Edward H. Bennett and Walter F. Shattuck, to make recommendations regarding the administration of this fund, and in pursuance of the advice of the committee it was determined that the $50,000 should be kept as a permanent fund and the income only expended; that the books on architecture now in the library should be incorporated in the Burnham Library; that the Burnham Library should be a part of the general Art Institute Library; and that a permanent book-plate should be adopted. The committee was made a Standing Committee and the plans are now being carried out.

Besides the Burnham Library Bequest of $50,000, money gifts to the amount of $27,512.67 have been received during the year. Many valuable accessions to the collections have also been received, a list of which is appended to this Report. Special mention perhaps ought to be made of:

The important gifts of the Friends of American Art, comprising nine pictures by the following American artists: Beal, Clarkson, Foster, Grover, Homer, Peyraud, Sparhawk-Jones, Tanner and Waugh; and the Panama Series of Etchings and Lithographs by Pennell.

The Amelia Blanxius Memorial Collection of old British and American Porcelain and Earthenware, presented by Mrs. Jene E. Bell and Mrs. Emma B. Hodge.

The Frank W. Gunsaulus Collection of Old Wedgwood, presented by Frank W. Gunsaulus.

The numerous and valuable gifts of the Antiquarian Society.

The income of the Ferguson Monument Fund has been $35,609.07. The Ferguson Memorial Fountain of the Great Lakes has been completed by Mr. Lorado Taft, the sculptor, and is now being cast in bronze. The foundation, of solid Milford granite, designed by Shepley, Rutan and Coolidge in consultation with Mr. Taft, has been prepared in the south terrace wall of the Art Institute, and it is expected that the fountain will be erected and dedicated this summer. A site for the proposed monument in honor of the heroes of the Cherry Mine disaster has been fixed upon in Logan Square. Studies for a design have been made by Mr. Henry Bacon, the architect, but the final design has not yet been settled upon. On January 30 the Trustees voted to prepare for the erection of a great monument in commemoration of the hundred years peace between Great Britain and America since the Treaty of Ghent in 1814.

Mr. Lorado Taft, the sculptor, was authorized to proceed with the execution of the full size models of the "Fountain of Time," of which he exhibited the design three years ago. This design, which was suggested by Austin Dobson's lines:

"Time goes, you say? Ah, no!
Alas, Time stays, we go."

represents a colossal figure of Time, reviewing a procession of mortals of all degrees passing in waves before him. It is more than a hundred feet long and eighteen feet high. It is intended to be erected in American marble on the Midway near Cottage Grove Avenue. The preparation of the models will probably require five years or more.

With regard to membership, there has been a large increase in the number of life members, but a decrease in the number of annual members. See Table annexed to this report.

The governing membership is limited to 200, in whom are vested the property and government of the institution.

During the past year five Governing Members have died, as follows:

Daniel H. Burnham
Marshall F. Holmes
Horace E. Horton

Thies J. Lefens
Arthur M. Barnhart

The following three members have resigned:

Granger Farwell
F. B. Smith

Henry L. Frank

There are now 162 Governing Members.

A considerable extension of the open hours of the Museum has been made during the past year. Beginning October 1, 1912, the galleries remained open until 5:30 P. M. daily, and were open Sunday evenings from 7 to 10. Since January 1 they have been open until 6 P. M. daily, and upon Sundays continuously from 12:15 to 10 P. M. The average attendance Sunday evenings from 6 to 10 has been 2,211. The Museum has never been closed, even for half a day, since it was opened in 1893. The open hours of the Ryerson Library also have been extended, and in addition to the former regular hours it is now open, free to the public, Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings until 9:30, and Sunday afternoons from 2 to 6.

Mr. Samuel E. Barrett, formerly a Trustee of the Art Institute, died December 29, 1912. Mr. Barrett was a member of the Art Institute for more than twenty years, and a Trustee from January, 1897, to April, 1908, when he resigned on account of ill health. Later he became a Life Member. His attention to official duties, his generous and substantial gifts and his unfailing courtesy made this long association most valuable to the institution and agreeable to his associates.

The situation of the Art Institute is in many respects inspiring. It is ministering to the enjoyment and elevation of a vast number of people, both educated and uneducated; it is well established as a civic institution and has a warm place in the affections of the community; it is everywhere recognized as one of the principal art institutions in the country; it has boundless opportunities to promote art and culture, not only in Chicago, but throughout the great valley of the Mississippi. All it needs is the means wherewith to do the work, and this Income amounting to $128,447.77 is on hand from this fund, of which $108,400.00 is temporarily invested in bonds and notes, which are in the custody of The Northern Trust Company.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR
THIRTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR

Chicago, June 5, 1913.

To the Board of Trustees of the Art Institute of Chicago:

The past year has been especially distinguished by satisfactory exhibitions of contemporary foreign art, a thing always recognized as desirable but not always easily effected. No fewer than eleven important exhibitions have put before our members the most recent developments in German, English, French, Italian, Swedish, Norwegian, Danish, Franco-American, and Spanish art. These exhibitions are as follows:

August, 1912......Contemporary German Applied Art.
October ............Rubbings from Monumental English Brasses.
October ............Examples of German Posters.
November .......Paris Contribution to Annual American Exhibition.

January ............Contemporary German Graphic Art.
February ............Contemporary Swedish, Norwegian and Danish Paintings.
April ............International Exhibition of Modern Art.
May .............Paintings of Albert Besnard of France.
May .............Contemporary Spanish Paintings.

It is difficult to make any brief comment upon exhibitions so extensive and diverse. It is the intention of the Art Committee to avail itself of every opportunity to exhibit the best foreign works. We hope this summer to exhibit the paintings of Lucien Simon.

Again the most important additions to the collections have been in the department of porcelain and pottery.
The fine Amelia Blanxius Memorial Collection of old British and American Porcelain, deposited in the Museum last year as an indefinite loan, has been presented to the Art Institute by Mrs. Jene E. Bell and Mrs. Emma B. Hodge, as a memorial to their mother, Amelia Blanxius. The collection is to be known as the Amelia Blanxius Memorial Collection, and is to be kept by itself in galleries or alcoves directly connecting with the collection of Old Wedgwood.

Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Hodge have been made Life Members of the Art Institute.

Another gift of the highest value is the Collection of Old Wedgwood, which also was placed in the Museum as a loan last year, and has now been presented by Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, with the provision that it be known as the Frank W. Gunsaulus Collection of Old Wedgwood and that it be kept by itself in galleries or alcoves directly connecting with the Blanxius Collection.

Another valuable accession has been made to the porcelain collection during the last few weeks through the gift of Rev. Arthur Duane Pell of New York of one hundred and ten examples of Continental and English porcelain and earthenware. These include pieces of rare Russian products; fine examples of Meissen, with marks; Berlin pieces of the earliest patterns; Worcester of the Dr. Wall (1751-60) and Flight and Barr periods (1783-88); and a complete series of Sèvres work. These objects are now placed in Gallery 47a, and it is understood to be Mr. Pell’s intention to add to them until they form a separate collection under his name.

These exhibitions have been remarkable in their range and variety. In some cases they have been arranged at much trouble and expense, in others opportunities have offered themselves of which the Art Committee has been prompt to avail itself.

The present exhibition of Spanish paintings is a very unusual one. There have been in America recently several "one-man shows" of paintings of individual Spanish artists, such as Sorolla and Zuloaga, but none heretofore by which we may compare the works of various well-known men. The collection consists of about sixty-five works, most of them large and important, collected in Madrid by Miss Ethel L. Coe, with the co-operation of Señor Manuel Cossio, Señor Rivas and Señor Castillejo. Among the artists represented are Gonzalo Bilboa, Villegas, Cecilio Pla, Sotomayor, José Garnelo, Morera, Anselmo Nieto, Najera, Manuel Benedito, Eduardo Chicharro, the two Zubiaurres, Zuloaga and Sorolla.

The special exhibitions of works of individual artists, commonly known as "one-man shows," have been more numerous than usual. The Art Committee passed an order directing that Gallery 53, a fine room, 44x27 feet, be devoted when practicable to the accommodation of one-man shows, changing once in two weeks. This has been done, but not without much interruption by the great exhibitions. There have been fifteen such exhibitions; two of foreign artists, Lavery and Besnard; five of Chicago artists, Miss Baker, G. P. A. Healy, Henderson, Grover, and Mrs. Pauline Palmer; and eight of other Americans, Young, Lie, Pennell, Alexander, Klots, Friesanke, Keith and Koopman.

The limits of this report do not permit extended comment, but it seems wrong to dismiss without special mention exhibitions so important as the German Applied Arts and the German Graphic Arts, the Scandinavian, Chicago Artists, Art Crafts, Water Color, and Architectural exhibitions, and the individual exhibitions of Healy, Besnard, Alexander and Mrs. Pauline Palmer.

The International Exhibition of Modern Art, commonly called the "Cubist Show," held in March and April, arrested a great deal of attention and attracted a great number of visitors. Question has been raised whether the Art Institute ought to exhibit work of so extreme and radical a character; whether an established art museum ought not to adhere to recognized standards and refuse to exhibit works which at best represent but a small and eccentric group.

The policy of the Art Institute, however, has always been liberal, and it has been willing to give a hearing to strange and even heretical doctrines, relying upon the inherent ability of the truth ultimately to prevail. The curiosity of art circles here was very much excited by the attention paid in Paris and New York to the various developments of modernist art, and there was no prospect of the works being seen here unless the Art Institute exhibited them.

The exhibition has illustrated in a striking manner the advantages of publicity. The exhibition has come and gone, the radicals have been given the opportunity of exhibiting in the most advantageous manner, the public curiosity is satisfied, everybody now knows the worst and the best, and even debate has exhausted itself. Scarcely anybody took the more extreme parts of the exhibition seriously. The art students, who are regarded as most susceptible to passing influences, appear not in the least affected. The attendance of visitors during the period of the exhibition, twenty-four days, which covered also the period of the Flower Show, was 188,650.

The Annual Exhibition of Paintings and Sculpture in November and December was thoroughly representative of American art.
The jury which selected and hung the pictures and awarded the prizes was composed of the Art Committee of the Art Institute and the following artists: William M. Chase, Joseph DeCamp, Daniel Garber, J. Francis Murphy, Harry M. Walcott, George E. Ganiere, and Frederick C. Hibbard. The honors were awarded as follows:

The Potter Palmer Gold Medal and prize of one thousand dollars, to Frank W. Benson for the painting “My Daughter.”

The Norman Wait Harris Silver Medal and prize of five hundred dollars, to J. Alden Weir for the painting “The Plaza; Nocturne.”

The Norman Wait Harris Bronze Medal and prize of three hundred dollars, to Frederick J. Waugh for the painting, “Surf and Fog, Monhegan.”

The Martin B. Cahn Prize of one hundred dollars, to be awarded to a Chicago artist, to Wilson Irvine for the painting, “In early autumn.”

Honorable Mention was awarded to Emil Robert Zettler for a marble “Head of Professor T. S.”; to Frank C. Peyraud for the painting “Summer evening”; to Philip Little for the painting “The brook”; to Gifford Beal for the painting “The puff of smoke.”

During the year twenty-nine catalogues and reports have been published, and many circulars, bulletins and notices.

There have been 307 audiences in Fullerton Memorial Hall from June 1, 1912, to June 1, 1913, with a total attendance of 100,479.

The Scammon Lectures were delivered in February and March by John W. Alexander upon “Painting as a Profession.” Mr. F. Hopkinson Smith has been engaged to deliver the course next season, in January.

The galleries have been open to visitors every day from June 1, 1912, to June 1, 1913, 195 pay days and
REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR

170 free days. The total attendance of visitors to the Museum has been 925,607.

In the school the attendance of students has been 2,886.

For details of publications, and of attendance upon museum, lectures, library and school, see tables appended to this report.

The Print Department, with its small but valuable collection, is ready to take on importance whenever it shall become possible properly to accommodate it. The present rooms, though admirable for exhibition, are too secluded to attract many visitors. Miss Kathryn W. McGovern has been the assistant immediately in charge of the Prints for the last year. The Chicago Society of Etchers helped materially to interest the public in etchings and engravings by its unusual and illuminating experiment of demonstrating the process of etching during the annual exhibition, in Gallery 27. This Society has still further favored the Print Department by setting aside ten per cent of the income from dues of associate members for the purchase of etchings from the annual exhibition for the permanent collection of the Art Institute. Nine etchings by American etchers who were represented in this year's exhibition, were presented. The Friends of American Art have bought and presented to the Print Department a notable series of lithographs and etchings, the Panama series, made by Joseph Pennell last year when he visited the Panama Canal. The addition of these twenty-six lithographs and five etchings makes the Pennell collection a large and varied one. It contains impressions from many of Pennell's early plates which no longer exist.
Card catalogues of the print collection are in progress. In round numbers the department now contains about 1,200 etchings and engravings.

In the installation of the collections there have been many temporary readjustments, but scarcely any important changes. In the Egyptian Room, Gallery 16, dark oak cases have been substituted for the former black ebonized cases, with good effect. A very important change in installation is contemplated, and probably will be effected this summer. This is the removal of the whole collection of textiles and other objects of decorative art, chiefly included in the Antiquarian collection, from its present position in the second floor, to the rooms North of the centre on the first floor, Galleries 10, 11 and 12. The casts of sculpture now in these rooms, of the Renaissance and modern periods, will be distributed in other galleries or stored for a time. This will release the skylighted galleries and the corridors of the second floor, Rooms 43, 45, 46, 47, 47a, 49 and 54, for use as picture galleries, and the whole second floor will be occupied by pictures excepting only the smaller Nickerson Room, Gallery 41, containing oriental pottery and bronzes. It will unify the classification, bringing the decorative arts, the textiles, pottery, and musical instruments together, in close relation with the antique collections of similar character. The Antiquarian collection will be dignified and benefited by greater space and side lighting.

It has long been the custom of the museum to detail members of the staff to accompany visitors and explain to them the collections. Dr. Alfred Emerson, Miss Bennett and Miss Driscoll have often performed this service, sometimes supplemented by outside friends, such as Mrs. J. B. Sherwood and Dr. F. W. Gunsaulus. The demand for museum guidance and instruction has become so great that a special museum instructor has been appointed. Mrs. Herman J. Hall entered upon the duties of Museum Instructor January 1, and since that time has given her whole time to the interpretation of the collections to visitors. The work is valuable and successful.

Mrs. Hall reports that during her five months of service she has given instruction in the collections to 9 schools, 25 clubs and 22 organized groups, comprising 3,198 individuals; and to many spontaneous groups in the galleries, comprising approximately 6,450 individuals; a total of 9,648. She has also prepared courses of study on sculpture and other subjects for women's clubs.

Many classes and clubs, from the University, from schools and from neighboring towns, visit the galleries with their own teachers and lecturers, and are generally admitted free.

While the ordinary demands upon an art museum are provided for, the department of research remains undeveloped. The staff is not without scholarly and accomplished persons, as our catalogues and current publications sufficiently show, and experts are developing by experience in the various departments. But the temporary exhibitions, the many changes incident to rapid growth, and the popular demands keep the whole force under constant pressure. Whenever the resources of the museum will permit it, it will be practicable, as it is most desirable, to attach distinguished specialists as opportunity offers to the staff, who shall not be wholly absorbed in the immediate duties of curatorship, but shall have time for scholarly research and publication.

A small force of men permanently employed is gradually completing the marble lining of the centre of the building. During the past year the marble arches spanning the north passage under the grand staircase have been completed, the marble floors of both the North and South passages have been put in, and the wall linings have been carried up nearly to the second floor. Changes in the approach to the elevator are in progress and nearly completed, by which access to the elevator will be opened from the centre of the building.

The aggregate number of students in the school in all departments has been 2,886, less by 168 than last year, but the collections for tuition fees have been greater by $4,010.87. The expense of the school has been diminished, so that the deficit is reduced to $1,462.77, and will probably disappear next year.

Special advanced classes in portraiture have been established under Mr. Walcott and Mr. Clarkson, with good results.

The usual interchange with Europe has been kept up. Of the teachers, Mr. Watson, Mr. Dillon, Mr. Boutwood and Miss Crow made foreign journeys last summer. Mr. Seymour is now abroad on six months' leave of absence, Mr. Boutwood is about to go for a year, and Mr. Schook for the summer. Miss Coe and Mr. Oswald are still in Europe, but may return in the autumn. Mr. Hutchinson, President, Mr. Ryerson, Vice-President, Mr. Carpenter, Secretary, Miss Van Horne, Librarian, and Mr. Lathrop,
Mr. Shaw and Mr. Bartlett of the Art Committee have all visited Europe during the last year.

The students this year as heretofore have found recreation in the occasional production of plays, masques and pageants. It is well known that art students have a special aptitude for acting, and the study of historical periods, costumes and characters involved in the preparation for plays is a useful part of their education, if not allowed to take too much time from studio practice. In the annual Mardi Gras of the Art Students' League, held in Blackstone Hall, February 4, a dramatic masque was produced, entitled "Caesar’s Gods,” dealing with Julian the Apostate and his time, written by Thomas W. Stevens and Kenneth S. Goodman. This was elastic enough to permit late Greek and Roman and early Christian dress, so there was much variety as well as splendor of costume. In these cases audience as well as actors are in costume. Later in the season the students presented “Holbein in Cheapside,” a comedy also by Mr. Stevens and Mr. Goodman, and a humorous play entitled “The Paint Apron,” written by Mrs. Armstrong, a former student of the Art Institute, which was in part a friendly satire on some of the officers and employees of the Art Institute.

An interesting feature of the school work has been an experiment in co-operation between the students of sculpture and of architecture. Monthly competitions have been held, in which the advanced students of both these departments participate, requiring the execution of original compositions in clay combining architectural and sculptural treatment, the work done in a single day, without previous preparation. Among the subjects were a monument to a sculptor applied to an interior stone wall, and a free-standing memorial fountain. This joint practice has been both stimulating and instructive.

The new public school building at the corner of 95th St. and Prospect Avenue, Chicago, has been named the John H. Vanderpoel School in memory of the distinguished teacher of the Art Institute who died two years ago. The name was conferred by the Board of Education in compliance with the urgent petition of friends and neighbors in the suburbs of Longwood and Beverly Hills.

A scholarship in the Art Institute, to be called the John H. Vanderpoel Scholarship, has been founded by the Art Students’ League of Chicago.

The report of the librarian, Miss Van Horne, shows that the Ryerson Library has reached the number of 8,276 volumes. Spaciously and beautifully installed this small library is wonderfully useful, and has been visited during the year by more than 75,000 persons. The librarian aptly observes that “a library of 8,000 volumes used by 80,000 people is a better asset than a library of 80,000 volumes used by 8,000 people.”

This report is accompanied by lists of the accessions to the collections and to the library, by lists of lectures and exhibitions, and by various statistical tables.

Very respectfully,

WILLIAM M. R. FRENCH,
Director.

We have also a collection of 270 maps, and a Clipping File containing 1,000 envelopes of clippings.

In comparison with the art libraries of Europe and our own eastern cities, 8,000 volumes seems a pitifully small group of books, and in visiting these great libraries one is at first overwhelmed by the extent of their collections. But from our American and Western point of view 8,000 books used by 80,000 people is a more desirable asset than 80,000 books used by 8,000 people, a proportion approximating conditions in the average art library. These great collections are wonderful places for the research work of the scholar. Our library, in spite of its special nature, has found its greatest usefulness as a popular library, popularly administered, with free access to the shelves, and with material and methods suited to the general cultivation of the students and the public.

A round of visits to European and American libraries has disclosed only one other art collection with open shelves, that of the little Kunstgewerbe-Museum at Leipzig, but Dr. Jessen, the librarian of the larger Kunstgewerbe-Museum in Berlin, said while here recently, that his visit to America had convinced him that public access to the shelves is of the greatest value, and he intended on his return to introduce the plan in Berlin.

New Hours. In pursuance of this popular policy the library has for the past three months been opened free on Sundays, and three evenings in the week till 9:30. The evening hours will probably not be required during the summer, but the Sunday and Holiday opening is a decided success and will be continued permanently. The hours have been from 2 to 6 and the average attendance has been 196. In the winter months it will undoubtedly be heavier.

A number of special tickets for free admission at all times have been issued to lecturers, artists and others desiring to make continued use of the library. It is hoped that during the coming year special library tickets may be printed giving free admission to the library and issued to all persons sufficiently interested to apply for them. This will make us in effect a free public library and will open hitherto unavailable avenues of cooperation with the other free libraries of the city.

Attendance. It has been impossible during the past year to keep an accurate record of visitors. The recorded attendance of 77,615 is known to be less than the actual number, but unless we may have one person especially detailed for this duty, omissions are inevitable during the busy season, when the assistants are all occupied with reference work and cannot watch the entrance.

Circulation. The greatest use of the library will always be for reference purposes, but during the past four years the circulation of books for use outside the library has increased, roughly speaking, from 700 to 3,000, and it is evident that one of our best opportunities for usefulness lies in the increase of our circulating department.

An interesting experiment has been made this spring in connection with the Public Library. The Art Institute has offered to stand as guarantor for its students, members and employees desiring Public Library privileges. Books may be sent for and returned at our library, which is made a regular branch delivery station. This has been a much appreciated accommodation to our students and other patrons, and in the past five months 743 books have been drawn from the Public Library. Of these about 60 per cent have been non-fiction, which shows that the privilege is used for serious purposes.

The question of circulation has suggested the following comparison, which is interesting, as indicating the growth of the library in the past five years:

An examination of the reports of other libraries shows that a record is kept of the number of inquiries answered by mail and telephone, and it is proposed to keep a similar record here next year. For several years our answers to letters of inquiry have been a very considerable item in the day's work, and in the past year our work by telephone has grown incredibly. We are very glad to encourage this sort of use, as it frequently saves both our time and that of our patrons, and we are glad to serve the public as a bureau of information on art matters.

Photographs. Lantern Slides. Miss Helen Carson, who has charge of the collections of lantern slides and photographs, submits a very interesting report of progress in this department and of possibilities for future development. The use of slides and photographs has so greatly increased during the year that it has become impossible for one person to do all the work. There is a continuous demand for a printed catalogue of the lantern slides, and our plan is to print separate lists of the various schools of painting, sculpture, and architecture, which can be distributed according to the individual demand. These lists collected will form a complete catalogue.

We have purchased for rental and for use in the Library Class Room two projection lanterns which may be used with an ordinary electric light fixture and operated by an amateur. One is for slides, the other for photographs, postcards, illustrations in books and pictures of any sort. These little machines afford delightful facilities for small informal talks and have already been used very successfully in this way. We hope next year to have series of short talks and exhibitions conducted by the library staff, and the room and machines will be at the disposal of groups of students, school children, women’s clubs and small study classes of any sort. The largest use of the slides and photographs will always of course be in Chicago, but there is a steadily increasing use by out of town patrons. Last winter we sent weekly shipments of slides to a Salt Lake City High School, and every fortnight collections of from 50 to 100 photographs to a small town in Illinois, where they were first used by the Woman’s Club and then exhibited at the public schools. These are only specimens of a use which has unlimited possibilities for development.

POSTCARDS. The postcard collection now numbers nearly 3,000, of which more than a thousand were purchased in Europe last summer. They include painting, sculpture and architecture of the principal cities of Europe, and other additions of the year include French chateaux and cathedrals, California missions, views and architecture of Washington and New York, farm scenes and animal pictures published by the American Museum of Natural History, and a set of the recent International Exhibition of Modern Art. Mr. H. H. Getty, Mr. William Eliot Furness, Mr. Ralph Fletcher Seymour, Miss Bennett and Miss White have been the principal donors.
Gifts, however small, to the postcard and photograph collections are always gratefully received.

GIFTS. This year the report is accompanied by an alphabetical list of donors to the library, and only a brief mention of gifts will be made in the body of the report. Our largest gift is the $2,000 presented by Mr. Ryerson for the purchase of books. Mr. Floyd Mechem has presented $25.00, and valuable books have been presented by Mr. H. H. Getty, Mr. Alfred Ernest Hamill, Mr. Frank G. Logan, Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan,
Mr. A. B. Pond, Mrs. Elysabeth Underhill, Mr. J. E.
Woodhead, the Art Students’ League, and the Palette and Chisel Club. Mrs. Underhill’s gifts include a rare old edition of Dante; the gift of the Art Students’ League was in memory of Miss Claire Stadeker; and the Palette and Chisel Club presented the original manuscript of Mr. Vanderpoel’s work on “The Human Figure.”

Valuable gifts to the Photograph and Lantern Slide Collections have been received from the William Keith estate, Mrs. Charles L. Hutchinson, Mrs. Elysabeth Underhill, Mr. J. L. Rosenberger, Mr. Charles Francis Browne, Mrs. A. N. Waterman, Mr. Lorado Taft, Mrs. John B. Sherwood, Miss Edith Emerson and from various American railways. A complete list of donors accompanies this report.

Important purchases of books, photographs and museum catalogues were made last summer in Germany, France and England. Especial attention was paid to books on the decorative and applied arts—ceramics, lace, costumes, metal work, etc.

Burnham Bequest. In connection with gifts to the library, it is fitting that this report should include a notice of Mr. D. H. Burnham’s bequest to the Art Institute of $50,000 for a library of architecture. This bequest and the plans for its use as outlined by the committee are described in the Trustees’ report. With the income of this fund Chicago should be able in a few years to build from the present nucleus in the Ryerson Library a collection of architectural books comparable to the Avery Library at Columbia, to be used as a general center of reference by the architectural profession of the middle west.
REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

Routine Work. This year the indexing of periodicals has been brought up to date from the time of its beginning in 1907, a shelf list of the Braun autotypes has been started and carried through 4,126 numbers, the accession list of postcards is well under way, numerous bibliographies have been prepared, and during current exhibitions, books and magazine articles on the artists represented have been collected on a special shelf for ready reference. This last work has been decidedly beneficial and will be continued next year. Among the bibliographies prepared were "Modern Japanese Art," "American Sculpture," "Artists of Revolutionary Times," "Byzantine Art," and "Glass." The library also prepared in co-operation with other Chicago libraries a list of its material on Housing, for a bibliography published in connection with the recent Housing exhibition at the City Club.

This matter of co-operation becomes increasingly important in order to avoid useless duplication of material in downtown Chicago libraries. Our pleasant relation with other libraries and museums continues. Numerous letters of inquiry as to arrangements and methods have been written and received, and various librarians and library-training classes have visited our library.

A midwinter reception to students and teachers was given, with short talks by the Director and Librarian. It is the intention to repeat this at the beginning of each fall term.

The staff of the library remains unchanged. The librarian desires to express her appreciation of the faithful and efficient service of her assistants at all times, but especially during her long absence last summer, and to express to the Director and Trustees her gratitude for the generous assistance which made possible her tour of foreign libraries and museums.

This report is accompanied by a table of statistics, a list of magazines received, including the architectural magazines of the Burnham Library, a list of donors, and a selected list of books acquired during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY VAN HORNE,

Librarian.
MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS
Daniel H. Burnham, Trustee, 1906-1912

The following minutes were adopted by the Board of Trustees at a meeting held December 9, 1912:

"It is with deep sorrow that the Trustees of the Art Institute of Chicago learn of the death on June 1 of one of their number, Mr. Daniel Hudson Burnham, at Heidelberg, Germany.

"Mr. Burnham was a strong friend of the Institute for many years and the architect of its former home on Van Buren street. His great enthusiasm and far seeing advice for broadening the scope of the Institute’s activities, and his helpfulness in the work of the Architectural School have been so valuable that his loss will be most seriously felt.

"His passing takes from Chicago one of its great men and a great architect. Essentially a man of affairs, his convincing personality compelled enthusiastic support for his ideals from those for whom and with whom he worked. To him, as to few indeed, was it given to design great buildings, world’s fairs, and many cities, and to plan all commensurate with the marvelous possibilities of the country.

"Mr. Burnham, by generous financial support and personal effort, made possible the carrying out of many projects for that artistic progress towards which he always strove. He possessed in himself the power to conceive, the energy to execute, and the faculty to inspire in others their best efforts, a rare combination in one person. His genial charm made all his friends.

"The Art Institute, in all its branches, mourns his loss. The Trustees in their public capacity, and privately, as his friends, mourn the architect and the man. But his memory will abide, and the wisdom and sincerity of his purposes will prevail through all the land."
