THE ART INSTITUTE OF CHICAGO was incorporated May 24, 1879, for the "founding and maintenance of schools of art and design, the formation and exhibition of collections of objects of art, and the cultivation and extension of the arts of design by any appropriate means." The museum building upon the lake front, first occupied in 1893, is open to the public every week day from 9 to 5:30, Sundays from 12:15 to 9 p. m. Admission is free to members and their families at all times, and free to all upon Wednesdays, Saturdays, Sundays, and public holidays.

The art school, affording comprehensive courses in the fine and applied arts, is under the same roof.

FORTIETH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES

Chicago, January 1, 1919.

To the Governing Members of The Art Institute of Chicago:

The work of the Art Institute during the year 1918 has necessarily been influenced by the world’s war. Seven major exhibitions bearing directly upon the war gave the public an almost continuous opportunity to contemplate aspects of the great epic from the artist’s point of view.

The Institute has co-operated in every possible way with those who have been working for the winning of the war, and has a right to be proud of its patriotic efforts. One hundred and twenty-six war meetings of various kinds were held within the building. Besides these there were five special receptions. Deserving of particular mention among the meetings at the Art Institute is the series held on Sundays under the auspices of the Chicago Woman’s Aid for the entertainment of soldiers and sailors. There were twenty-six of these meetings with an average attendance of three hundred. Refreshments were served in the Art Institute Refectory.

The Middle West Department of the United States Division of Pictorial Publicity was organized at the Art Institute early in the year, and until the establishment of its own office regarded this as its headquarters. The weekly meetings of the Division continued to be held at the Institute for several months. This body of the civilian service contributed some of the most successful of the posters and illustrations to the cause, notably among them those by Mr. Norton and Mr. Babcock, members of the Art Institute faculty. The students of the School during the year produced many scores of works in this field, Mr. Philbrick's class in particular rendering a service which was recognized in a highly appreciative letter addressed by the State Food Administration to the Director. Under the direction of Mr. Rosse, the Design Department planned and executed a decoration for the façade of the Art Institute building dedicated to the United War Work Campaign. This was an unusually successful piece of civic art and won appreciative comments from the public and the United War Work Committee as well.

The Institute steps formed a rallying place for a great number of outdoor meetings in connection with the several “drives” and during the spring, summer, and autumn were the scene of almost daily noontime meetings in which the assembled crowds numbered thousands. It was not an unusual thing for two or more meetings to be in progress there during the same noon hour. The Institute terrace was a favorite reviewing stand for the numerous parades which passed in Michigan Avenue, and was repeatedly reserved for this purpose by the civil and military authorities.

Of students, employees, and officers of the Art Institute of Chicago, four hundred and ninety-eight entered the service of the United States and the Allies, and of these fourteen gave their lives.

Within the year the Art Institute has sustained a great loss in the death of its Business Manager, Newton H. Carpenter, who died on the twenty-first day of last May after a devoted service to the Institute for nearly forty years. The value of this service can hardly be overestimated. As Secretary, Director and Business Manager, he won for himself a national reputation in the museum world. Coming to the Art Institute at its foundation, he remained with it until his death, earnestly devoted to its best interests which were ever foremost in his mind and affection.

The Trustees gratefully acknowledge the value of his untiring devotion.

The most rigid economy was practiced in all departments during the year. Despite the large increase in the price of labor and of commodities, the cost of maintaining the Museum and School did not greatly exceed the amount required in 1917. The receipts of the Museum from all sources during 1918 were $251,478.85, and the payments were $237,091.10, leaving a surplus in the Museum of $14,387.75.

School receipts during the year were $74,053.93 and payments were $92,579.53, causing a deficit of $18,525.60. The net deficit of the Museum and School combined was $4,137.85.

Through gifts the Art Institute was enabled during the year to make a reduction of over $24,000.00 in its liabilities, while $18,552.04 was added to the Endowment Funds, increasing the total to $1,097,282.06.

Attendance—Owing largely to the Institute's war activity, the attendance for the year has broken all records. The attendance in 1917 had fallen eight per cent below that of 1916. In 1918, 1,132,856 persons passed through the portals of the Institute. This figure counts the visit of each student of the school once only for each day. It marks an increase of more than ten per cent over 1916, the best year hitherto.

The previous high record for a single day's attendance was surpassed twice during 1918. On Sunday, September 8, during the War Exposition in Grant Park, 60,790 visitors entered the building, and on Labor Day the attendance was 43,000. The total attendance for the three weeks of the exhibition then current, that of the mobilized artists of France, was 256,000. The smallest Sunday attendance in many years, occasioned by the blizzard of January 6, 1918, was 745.

Memberships—The public has given additional evidence of its appreciation of the Art Institute this year. It is significant that, notwithstanding the many demands in other directions, the total membership shows a decrease of but 17 members as against a total decrease of 616 in 1917.

An addition to the list of Honorary Members was made through the election by the Trustees of Mr. John S. Miller, in appreciation of valuable services he has rendered the Institute.

The Governing Membership has met with a loss, through death, of seven members—Mrs. Potter Palmer, Homer J. Stillwell, John E. Jenkins, John M. Clark, A. Stamford White, Kenneth Sawyer Goodman, and Robert B. Gregory. Four new Governing Members were elected by the Trustees and have qualified, making a net reduction of three members of this class.

There was a gain of 231 in Sustaining Members, who subscribe $25.00 or more annually. Members of this class, who numbered 373 on December 31, contributed $16,085.00 during 1918.

During the year 122 Life Members were added and two Life Members were transferred to Governing Membership, a gain of 120, making a present total of 2,370 Life Members.

The annual subscribers comprise the largest class of members, and it was to be expected that the heaviest decline would occur in this class. The record for the previous year showed a loss of 1,988 Annual Members, offset in part by the addition of 992 new memberships. It is gratifying, therefore, to report a falling off of but 1,388 during the last year, a loss which was substantially overcome by the enrollment of 1,022 new members, causing a net loss of only 366 against a net loss of 996 in 1917. The total number of Annual Members was 3,994 and the total number of members of all classes was 6,945 at the end of 1918.

BEQUESTS—The past year has been marked by an unprecedented number of bequests to the Art Institute. That of chief importance, and the largest in the history of the Institute, was from George B. Harris, a Life Member, who died June 10, 1918. The residuary estate of Mr. Harris, which, after the payment of certain bequests, amounts to over $1,000,000.00 is bequeathed to the Art Institute as a permanent fund in memory of George B. Harris and Mary R. Harris, his wife, the income only to be used for the general purposes of the Institute.
Mrs. Potter Palmer, a Governing Member, and long conspicuous as a patron of the Institute, died on May 5, 1918. In her will she offers to the Institute a collection of works of art, to be selected by her sons, to the value of not less than $100,000.00, upon condition that a special gallery is set apart for the installation of the collection.

Mrs. Lois H. Culver, Life Member for twenty-two years, widow of George N. Culver, a former trustee, died June 18, 1918, bequeathing to the Institute one-tenth of the residue of her estate. The bequest, which is unrestricted, will amount to about $50,000.00.

The residue of the estate of Ferdinand Schapper, an Annual Member for many years, who died on March 13, 1918, is to be held as a fund in memory of his wife, to be known as "The Ella M. Schapper Memorial Fund." The income from the fund is to be used for such purposes as may be thought best by the Trustees.

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, a Life Member, died October 26, 1918. The Art Institute is bequeathed a one-fifth share of her residuary estate, after the death of certain beneficiaries having life interests, to establish the Ella Flagg Young Fund. The income is to be used annually in a manner to be determined by the Trustees, assisted by the President of the Ella Flagg Young Club and the President of the School Teachers' organization which has the largest membership.

One-tenth of the residue of the estate of Mrs. Fannie Oplatka, who died March 30, 1918, is to be devoted by the Trustees to establish a scholarship or create a prize fund as an aid to a worthy student in the school.

Edward Hoffman died December 10, 1918, leaving a legacy of $1,000.00 to the Trustees for the use and benefit of the Institute.

THE B. F. FERGUSON MONUMENT FUND—Much activity was developed in the administration of this fund, of which the Trustees of the Art Institute are the trustees. Three monuments were dedicated during the year, one of which was erected by the Trustees in conjunction with the Directors of the World's Columbian Exposition. This monument, a gilded bronze reproduction of the Statue of the Republic, which occupied a prominent position in the Court of Honor at the Columbian Exposition in 1893, was unveiled and dedicated on May 11, in Jackson Park, near the site of the Administration Building of the World's Fair. Daniel Chester French was the sculptor of the figure and the pedestal was designed by Henry Bacon.

The second monument to be erected from the Ferguson Fund, a memorial to Alexander Hamilton, was dedicated on September 28 in Grant Park, at Monroe Street. The sculptor was Bela Lyon Pratt, and the architectural setting was designed by Charles A. Coolidge.

On October 13 was dedicated the monument in Logan Square commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the admission of Illinois as a state into the Union. Henry Bacon was the architect and Evelyn B. Longman the sculptor.

Several other works are in progress. Commissions have been assigned to Albin Polasek for a memorial to Theodore Thomas, to be located in Grant Park opposite Orchestra Hall, and to Leonard Crunelle for a small fountain, a memorial to Shabbona, which is suggested for one of the smaller west parks. Designs are being prepared for a monument to the early explorers of Illinois to be erected at 24th Street and Marshall Boulevard.

The total amount of $216,765.81 has now been expended for monuments by the Trustees of the Ferguson Fund.

WIRT D. WALKER FUND—No income from this fund has yet become available for the Wirt D. Walker Gallery.

FRIENDS OF AMERICAN ART—The activities of the Friends of American Art have continued throughout the year, though they have been somewhat curtailed by the exigencies of the war. During 1918 several important paintings were added to the collection, including examples of Frank Duveneck, George Fuller, Henry Inman, Thomas Sully, and Jessie Arms Botke.

The gifts to the Art Institute, acquired from the Friends of American Art during the eight years of its activity, number eighty-six paintings, six pieces of sculpture and thirty-six prints.

OTHER ACTIVITIES—The work of the Extension Department so auspiciously established in its first two years, has been suspended until March, 1919, owing to the absorption in war work of the communities to which it is designed to minister.

In the scarcity and costliness of labor the Institute has found some of the greatest difficulties of the year. Vital work about the building has often been of necessity deferred, and much of the work actually accomplished has been retarded. An increased cost in energy and resources has accompanied almost every enterprise undertaken.

The number of employees now on the payroll of the Institute, exclusive of the teachers in the School, is one hundred and twenty-six. The number has steadily fallen since 1916, when it was one hundred and forty. The activity of the institution cannot be said to have diminished and the inference is that those now in the service of the Art Institute are carrying heavier work than formerly. This is a wartime condition, and it is a source of gratification and of pride that the spirit of the workers is excellent.

In the spring it was foreseen that the attendance of the School would suffer a further decrease, and plans were made accordingly. The faculty was reduced in number and the opportunity was taken for an educational reorganization to meet the changing demands now being made upon the artist and designer. This reorganization is progressing in a gratifying manner and it is now evident that the strengthening of the School to a high degree will not be difficult of accomplishment. The course of the first year—now set apart under the name of the Lower School and regarded as preliminary to all specialization—has been made simpler and intensified. In the Middle School—where specialization is taken up—only the Design Department has thus far been touched by the reorganization of courses. Mr. Hermann Rosse, the decorator of the Peace Palace of The Hague, and one of the most accomplished designers of his generation, is now head of this department. He has infused into the work a practical character which has already brought the School into touch with four of the larger industries in which design is involved, the latter offering material co-operation in the work of the School.

The year marked the establishment of the Byron L. Smith Room, which had been formerly known as Room 53. This gallery, a gift to the Art Institute from a number of friends of Mr. Smith, is being re-fitted and is to contain a group of paintings by Americans of the Colonial period, and a small collection of Colonial furniture. Room 52 has also been re-fitted and has been designated as the DeWolf Gallery of American Landscape, the gift of Wallace L. and Mary Rea DeWolf. Among other gifts during the year, have been paintings by William Wendt, received from Wallace L. DeWolf and William F. Tempel; “Dragon Valley,” by Elliott Daingerfield, presented by Milton L. Strauss; “The Modern Crusader of Servia,” a bronze bust, by Malvina Hoffman, given by a group of ladies. Rudolph Ruzicka has presented a number of his wood engravings and the Chicago Society of Etchers has added twelve etchings to the print collection.

A present need of the Art Institute is the establishment of a department of publicity as aggressive and capable of success as the Membership Department now is. The possibilities of such a department and its capacity for achievement have been clearly demonstrated in the response made by the public to a number of editorials on various aspects of the Institute which have appeared in the local press during the twelve-month. It is an obligation on the part of the Institute to make its resources as widely known as possible, since it is for public service that the Institute primarily exists and so long as there remains a single opportunity or a single object among its offerings of which the public remains uninformed.

The editorial endorsement, generous and wholly unsolicited, given by the press of Chicago during the trying months now past, has been as beneficial as it has been gratifying. The appearance of editorial notices has, in every case, been followed by a response distinctly felt at the Institute, and no doubt a definite portion of the public's support can be attributed to it. This is a mere indication of the telling results which might be achieved were the Institute financially able to carry out a definite and vigorous policy of educational publicity, through the establishment of a department to supervise this work, together with a presentation of the facilities for study in the museum to the manufacturing interests of the company, as certain other museums are now doing.

Resolutions on the death of Newton H. Carpenter:

The Trustees of The Art Institute offer their affectionate tribute to the memory of Newton H. Carpenter, a valued associate and friend as well as an inspiring co-worker in a common cause.

For nearly four decades Mr. Carpenter bore a conspicuous part in promoting the development and in increasing the influence of the Art Institute and his able management of its business affairs contributed largely to its steady and consistent material growth.

His devotion to the Art Institute was unbounded and he gave to it unsparingly the best that was in him. In its service he was enthusiastic and untiring and it may be truly said that he wrought his life into every phase of its work.

Mr. Carpenter's personal qualities, combining simplicity, sincerity, steadfastness and a sympathetic interest in his fellow men, won him a host of friends particularly among the members of the Art Institute, the teachers; pupils and employees, who knew him best and could best appreciate his many lovable traits.

By his passing the Art Institute has lost a valued officer and the City of Chicago a good and useful citizen.

GUY V. YOUNG, MANAGER OF DEPARTMENT

BENEFACTORS AND MEMBERS

BeneFACTORS: Whenever any person shall have contributed twenty-five thousand dollars or more, or its equivalent, to The Art Institute of Chicago, he shall be named a Benefactor of the Art Institute, and his name shall be printed in each Annual Report under the head of Benefactors of the Art Institute, and also be placed on the Benefactors' tablet in the main hall.

HonORARY Members: Honorary Members are chosen from among persons who have rendered eminent service to the institution or who have claim to the rank of artists or patrons of art.

GovERNING Members: The property, management, and control of the Art Institute are vested in the Governing Members. Each Governing Member pays one hundred dollars upon election and annual dues of twenty-five dollars.

Governing Members, upon payment of four hundred dollars, are exempt from dues and are known as Governing Life Members. The receipts from these funds are invested, and the income only expended.

SUSTAINING Members: Sustaining Members shall be those who contribute twenty-five dollars or more annually to the Art Institute. They shall be entitled to all the privileges of Governing Members, excepting the right to vote for, or to be eligible to, the office of Trustee.
THE ART INSTITUTE OF CHICAGO

LIFE MEMBERS: Life Members, upon the payment of one hundred dollars, have all the privileges of Annual Members for life. All receipts from these memberships are invested, and the income only expended.

ANNUAL MEMBERS: Annual Members pay ten dollars a year.

All members are entitled, with their families and non-resident visiting friends, to all lectures, receptions, and exhibitions, given by the Art Institute, with the exception of the Sunday concerts.
